

Harassment Policy

Harassment is unwelcome behaviour that intimidates, offends, or humiliates a student because of a particular personal characteristic.

Harassment

Harassment is similar to bullying because someone hurts another person through cruel, offensive and insulting behaviours. Harassment is different from bullying in that it is a form of discrimination and is unlawful where the basis for harassment relates to a personal characteristic which is protected by law, such as:

- sex and gender identity or sexuality and sexual orientation
- · race, religion, ethnic background
- · disability.

Parklands School is committed to providing a safe School learning and working environment that is based on mutual respect and is free from harassment. Harassment is not acceptable in any circumstances and will not be tolerated.

The School is responsible for ensuring that students are treated fairly and with respect, and is committed to ensuring that all staff will:

- model appropriate standards of behaviour
- educate and make students aware of their obligations under this Policy and the law

Parklands School's Policy

- intervene quickly and appropriately when inappropriate behaviour is identified
- act fairly to resolve issues and enforce the School's behavioural standards, making sure relevant parties are heard
- help students resolve complaints informally
- ensure students who raise an issue or make a complaint are not victimised.

The School will investigate formal complaints about breaches of this Policy and take appropriate prompt remedial action, including counselling, education, medication and disciplinary action up to and including expulsion.

Sexual Harassment

Sexual harassment occurs when a student is subjected to unwelcome and uninvited sexual conduct by another student which could be expected to make a student feel offended, humiliated, or intimidated.

Sexual harassment can also result when a sexually intimidating or offensive environment is created.

Sexual harassment can be physical, verbal, written or pictorial, and can range from relatively mild sexual banter to actual physical violence.

It is important to remember that it is the way the victim perceives the behaviour that is important in determining whether or not harassment has taken place, not the intent of a particular individual.

Mutual attraction or consenting friendships do not constitute sexual harassment.

Examples of sexual harassment include, but are not limited to:

- unwanted physical contact, touching, brushing against another student, hugging
- persistent jokes or innuendos of a sexual nature
- repeated requests to go out
- offensive gestures
- persistent or intrusive enquiries into another student's private life, sexuality, or physical appearance
- sexual propositions
- sexually offensive phone calls, messages on email, voicemail or in writing
- displaying offensive screen savers, photos, calendars or objects
- sexually explicit emails, text messages, or posts on social networking sites (refer to our Cyber Safety policy)
- stalking
- sexual assault.

Racial Harassment	Racial harassment is also found in many forms. Examples include, but are not limited to: • abusive, threatening or insulting words and behaviour • deliberate exclusion from conversations • displaying abusive writing and pictures • insensitive jokes related to race • pranks.
Disability Harassment	 Examples of disability harassment include: humiliating comments or insults about a student's disability disparaging remarks to students who have received learning adjustments comments or actions which create a hostile environment for a student with a disability deliberately excluding a student where the disability is not an issue. Refer to our Disability Discrimination policy.
Victimisation	Action will be taken against anyone who victimises a student who makes a complaint of harassment in good faith.

All students are required to: treat all students, staff and any other person at the School professionally and with respect Student avoid behaviour that could be interpreted as harassing and Responsibility act to prevent other students from engaging in harassment, where this is reasonably practicable where students have witnessed harassment at the School they are encouraged to report this to a staff member. A key part of School's harassment prevention and intervention strategy is to encourage reporting of harassment incidents as well providing assurance to students who experience harassment (and parents/carers) that harassment is not tolerated within the School. Students who believe that they are being harassed should make it known that the comments, contact or behaviour is unwelcome and offensive. Harassment If the student does not feel comfortable in talking directly to Response the perpetrators or if they seek advice on how to proceed, they Procedures should contact any of the following: a teacher the School AISWA School Psychologist the student's year coordinator the Deputy School Office or the School Office. The School will then apply its Bullying Prevention and Intervention policy and associated procedures.

Implementation	This Policy is implemented through a combination of: • staff training • effective incident notification procedures • initiation of corrective actions where necessary.
Discipline for Breach of Policy	Depending upon the nature and seriousness of the breach of this Policy Parklands School may take disciplinary action, including in the case of serious breaches, suspension or expulsion. Engaging in unlawful harassment may result in legal action being taken against the perpetrator and Parklands School.
